Chamber of Commerce Buys Downtown Corner

Six Seek Job as Postmaster for Village

When deadline for applications for the postmastership of Palm Springs closed last week, six had filed for the position to succeed R. M. Gorham who retired this morning.

Those filing are Merritt Williams, acting postmaster since Gorham retired, A. E. Hoover, Gerald Thomason, Charles K. Linn, Mrs. Edna Scott, Chris A. Wasem.

First deadline, set in May, was extended to June 9 when insufficient applications were received. At the time of the second deadline—June 9—the six had filed.

There will be no written or oral tests, but the United States Civil Service Commission will examine the qualifications of each applicant and its decision will not be known for a few weeks.

SUPPORT OF VILLAGERS SOUGHT FOR RACE PLANT

That the Palm Springs Turf club plant, just off Highway 111 a few miles east of the city, would provide not only a racing oval which would attract hundreds of visitors to the city early in the season and late, but would also fill a long-felt need as an exhibition hall, a place for conventions and make possible the staging of International Horse Shows here, Kenneth Kirk of the organization told a gathering of 75 people at Biltmore hotel Saturday afternoon.

The meeting was called by the Turf club, and interested Villagers invited to explain more fully the proposal.

KIRK SAID that bringing the big horse shows here would attract hundreds of people and bring new fame to the area. He also said that the plant provides for a steeple-chase course and that it would also be possible to stage automobile races there, also harness racing.

When not in use, it would also provide a place for training thoroughbreds, also adding to people attracted to the city. He called attention to the big names connected with the breeding and training of thoroughbreds in outlining the proposed plant's value to the desert area.

SAUL RUSKIN presided at the meeting, introducing the speakers. He said that the wrong ideas seem to prevail, that the desert cannot obtain thoroughbred racing. He said that such a plant would be of distinct advantage to the community and can be had—if the community wants it.

Kirk name a long list of prominent Southern Californians interested in a thoroughbred plant here and spoke of the interest of horsemen all over the Southland in the plans.

HE ADDED THAT the plant would provide something for the community's visitors and guests to do in the daytime.

"There is plenty of entertainment," he said.

Six hundred Elks from all over the state will descend on Palm Springs tomorrow to institute the Palm Springs Lodge, BPOE, in impressive ceremonies at 5 p. m. at the high school gymnasium.

William Olsen, first Exalted Ruler of the local lodge, and his staff, are preparing for one of the biggest events in the Village history.

Following the ceremonies at the high school, a dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. at the Chi Chi.

PALM SPRINGS LODGE, BPOE, the youngest lodge in the nation, will be No. 1905.

Olsen yesterday said that all prospective members of 1905 must be present at the high school gymnasium tonight at 8 o'clock for rehearsal of initiation of all charter members which will take place tomorrow.

"No one missing tonight's rehearsal will be initiated as a charter member tomorrow night," Olsen said.

Negotiations for Amado - Belardo Corner Completed

Acceptance of a generous sales offer made by Mrs. Austin G. McManus was announced today by President Frank Prince and the Chamber of Commerce board of directors. Negotiations involved the Cantonese House property on the northeast corner at Amado and Belardo roads, directly across from the entrance to the O'Donnell Golf Course. Plans for the proposed Visitor's Center and Chamber of Commerce headquarters will begin immediately.

This historic piece of property was inherited by Mrs. McManus from her father, John Guthrie McCallum, and has been in the family for more than 50 years. One of the two key corners to the large block, the Visitor's Center building will be constructed to conform with other overall improvements planned for this block to make an attractive addition to the Village.

TERMS OF THE TEN-YEAR contract included an initial payment of $3,300 and $2,500 per year (same approximate amount as paid in annual rent for the past three years) by the Chamber of Commerce. The availability of a permanent building on the lot will allow the Chamber to move immediately into temporary headquarters while plans for a new building are being drawn up and remain there until the Palm Springs Visitor's Center is completed.

The Cantonese House property was one of fourteen sites considered by the Chamber's directors with the prices ranging from $800 per front foot to gift property. Sites including improved and unimproved land were considered from the north-east to the south-west. During the "Build for Tomorrow" campaign, the site committee met with the Committee of 25 to determine the possibility of obtaining the O'Donnell property on Palm Canyon drive at Stevens road for the proposed Visitor's Center and Chamber of Commerce headquarters. The committee was not able to complete these negotiations for a dollar a year land.

PURCHASE OF the McManus property for a Visitor's Center site was the culmination of several years' planning which began during the presidency of Milton Hicks. Under the presidency of Keith Forber, Fred Ingram and Stan Rosin, $5,000 was placed in a savings account to be used at a later time for a building. At the board of directors meeting June 1, upon a motion by Treasurer Stanley Rosin, seconded by Adrian Rosen, elected representative of Retail Merchants' Division, it was unanimously approved to purchase the McManus property. As representative of retail merchants of the Chamber, Adrian Rosen declared that the merchants would like to go on record as heartily endorsing the Palm Springs Visitor's Center program and the selection of this property as the site.

The Chamber staff will move into the Cantonese House building in the near future and establish temporary headquarters while a studied plan for building a beautiful Visitor's Center is formulated. The Chamber's board of directors and Manager William J. Dunkerly will confer with architects in effort to devise the most beautiful and serviceable building possible.

BANNING'S ERRANT INCARCERATED HERE

There are several more prisoners than usual in the Palm Springs jail these days but it is not due to any sudden crime wave in the Village.

The extra prisoners are out-of-town guests—from Banning.

Acting Chief of Police Orest Johnson said Tuesday that while a new jail is under construction in Banning, Banning prisoners will be housed here. They are down the old jail in Banning to make way for the new one.

SITE OF NEW HOME—Above, the corner of Amado and Belardo roads which the Chamber of Commerce has contracted to purchase from Mrs. A. G. McManus as the site for its new home and visitors' corner. Located just a block off Palm Canyon drive near the entrance to the O'Donnell golf course, the site will be improved with a new building later. The building on the property will be converted into an office for the Chamber at once.

Resume Work on Improvement of Indian Avenue

Long-delayed widening of Indian avenue between Tahquitz drive and midway to Andreas road was started yesterday by city crews under a revised program. It is expected the project will be completed by the end of July.

The location where the work started is in front of the Mineral Springs bath house and Indian office.

Top national and state engineers are watching the highly technical problem involved because of underground water.

ORIGINAL PLAN TO put a bridge underground beneath the paving has been dropped in favor of a new plan to lay the street on a base of chipped granite.

Yesterday the city began putting in 25 suction heads along the east side of the street. To the top of these pipes will be connected a pump which will pull the water out of the ground and for a time dry up the mineral baths.

Next step will be to excavate to a depth of 12 feet where a surfacing material will be installed to seal of the water. Chipped granite will be used to bring the fill to street level and the paving will be placed on this.

THE PROJECT will be done under "forced account" with the city starting the work and contracts being let for the fill and paving. Cost of the project is estimated at $18,000.

Tom Selman will be in charge of the city portion of the job. City Engineer John Keith said

DEBATE MARKS REQUEST FOR CHANGE IN NAME

Rancho Mirage wants to remain Rancho Mirage.

That was made evident Monday when supervisors heard a petition from approximately 150 residents of the desert area between Cathedral City and Palm Desert asking that the name of the 14 square miles involved be officially made "Palm Valley."

While approximately 150 persons sought the change, an almost equal number of protests against the proposal came in letters and postcards to supervisors.

Supervisors did not act on the petition, saying they wanted to give it careful consideration.

KOREAN PALM SPRINGS GIVEN AID BY VILLAGE

There is going to be a Palm Springs in Korea and the local Chamber of Commerce and other interested parties have been asked to assist.

Major R. L. Doak of the 223d Infantry, 40th Infantry Division, headquarters, recently wrote of the Korean Palm Springs in a letter to the Chamber. The 223d regiment is part of the 40th National Guard division of California and is composed of Californians.

NOW AT THE FRONT, the regiment has a club and restaurant and rest center which it has christened: "Gibraltar's Palm Springs."

"Although Korea can not match the magnificent splendor of your resort, we in the 223d are trying in every possible way to make this recreational haven

Public Hearings on City Budget Slated for July

Public hearing on the city budget for the 1953-54 fiscal year will not be held next Thursday as originally scheduled, Russell Rink, city manager, said Tuesday.

Councilmen have not yet had a chance to thoroughly go over the $764,179 document, he explained.

The budget was introduced at city council meeting June 3. It is $135,105 higher than the 1952-53 budget due to salary increases, higher cost of materials and additional employees needed to handle the rapid growth of the city.

Rink said that a 6-cent hike in the city tax rate will be necessary if the tentative budget is adopted as it stands. The tentative budget calls for a tax rate of 1.337 for the fiscal year, which starts July 1, 1953. For the current fiscal year, the rate was $1.28 per $100 assessed valuation.

TRY AND RELAX, a friend advised when told I was making a transcontinental plane trip. You're safer up there than you would be driving your car, he assured me. I still feel safer on the ground, I think, but agree that there are a lot of auto accidents these days.

Mrs. Jaynes and I are to leave L. A. International Airport at 11 p. m. but advised to be there twenty minutes early. We arrive about 10:30 and the fog is so thick you can taste it. There will be a delay in taking off, we are told. While standing around I see a machine for taking out insurance. Shall I or shall I not—silly waste of money. Half an hour later I walk right up and take out a $5000 policy.

Can't take off from International, we are told—will have to take a bus to Glendale, which the airline kindly provides. We sit in the back with two attractive stewardesses. I try to act as though I did this once a week—but one of the young ladies tells me she has been on this flight for six months and it's only the second time they've had to take off from Glendale. We are soon out of the fog—which makes us feel much better—and before we know it we are boarding the plane. How IT got to Glendale I was not able to figure out.

Settled down into one of those nice soft seats we felt quite comfortable—and safe. But when they closed the door, flash

William McGucken Named Local TV System Manager

The International Telemeter Corporation has announced the appointment of William J. McGucken as sales and business manager of its subsidiary, The Palm Springs Community Television corporation. He succeeds Bob Bennett, who resigned last week as general manager of the local firm.

McGucken is being transferred from the Los Angeles Telemeter plant, where he has, since January of this year, acted in the capacity of sales engineer. He will assume his duties in Palm Springs immediately. Roy Skeirik will continue in charge of all engineering operations for the Community Television system. Many Village residents will remember McGucken as a staff announcer and chief engineer at KCMJ in 1950 and 1951. After leaving the local radio station he joined the staff of KRUX, Phoenix, and more recently has been connected with The Collins Radio company as its Western division broadcast sales representative.

"It is wonderful to be back in Palm Springs, and I hope that all local residents will feel free to contact me, should they have any questions regarding the Community Television Antenna System and its services," McGucken said. Construction of the system will continue through the Summer, in order to assure service to all areas of the city as soon as possible."

Planners Approve Zoning Measure for Desert Area

County planners last week approved a zoning plan for Cathedral City and Palm Desert and 180 square miles of land in the vicinity of the two communities. The plan now goes before the supervisors who are expected to act on it within a few weeks and probably call a public hearing. The plan will take in several communities in addition to Cathedral City and Palm Desert: Rancho Mirage, Palm View, Trancas, and Thunderbird Estates.

The communities will get residential zoning and business zoning in accordance with land uses already established. The desert land around the communities will be in a W-2 zone—a zone for "watersheds, conservation areas, and recreational areas." This zone allows residences and resorts and businesses, but it prohibits most industries. The northern boundary of the plan is the Southern Pacific railroad. The southern boundary is the San Bernardino National Forest. The western boundary is at Palm Springs. The eastern boundary is about a mile and a half east of Palm Desert.

First 3-D Film Shown in Indio

Manager Van Gortel of the Aladdin theater, Indio, is presenting the first showing of 3-dimensional pictures in the desert area this week. The scientific film "It Came from Outer Space" started last night at the Aladdin and will be shown tonight, tomorrow and Saturday. The picture is the first science-fiction film made for 3-D, Gortel said.

PUBLISHER'S CORNER

on a sign that says: "Fasten your seat belt . . . No smoking" . . . and the motors sputter like they weren't working right, our pulse quickens and we decide to read the evening newspaper and forget all about the plane. After we read the first paragraph of the same story four times the plane starts moving—we abandon the paper and tinker with the button that lets the seat tilt back, and check our seat belt. By this time the ship is poised at the end of the runway and they're trying out the motors—one at a time it seems. Then all of a sudden, before we have a chance to gather our thoughts, the ship starts forward with a terrific roar and trembles all over. This is an anxious moment—just try and relax! But as the rumble of the wheels stops there is a strange floating feeling, the motors smooth out and the scenery that was racing by our windows seems to have come to an almost complete stop. The view of millions of lights below thrills and stimulates us. We're in the air.

A stewardess announces on the speaker that refreshments will be served when we reach the height at which we are to fly—which she also announces. Eighteen thousand feet! Our confidence in this great bird is building up gradually. The lights below are thinning out and we pick up the paper again. Half way thru the front page—and we peer out the window again. A mountain! It looks like San Jacinto—it is San Jacinto! And there nestling behind it is Palm Springs which we left hours ago. One bright line with a scattering of lights on either side.

Wonderful coffee and sandwiches—this is getting better all the time. The stewardess brings a pillow and a light blanket. What comfort! We tilt the seat back and decide we'll take a nap. But this is too stimulating for sleep. Think of it—eighteen thousand feet . . . flying through the night at almost five miles a minute. Those little streaks of light way down there must be autos . . . there's the Colorado river . . . can that be Tucson? . . . remember next time to cut down on the baggage, we were quite a bit over . . . almost everyone has snapped off their light . . . how quiet and smooth it is up here . . . wonder if we forgot anything? . . . could that be El Paso? . . .

"Time for breakfast." The stewardess is standing above us with a tray. We must have fallen asleep. The horizon ahead is a red glow. What a sight! And what a breakfast: bacon and scrambled eggs, nice and hot. Interesting salt and pepper gadgets . . . they thought of everything.

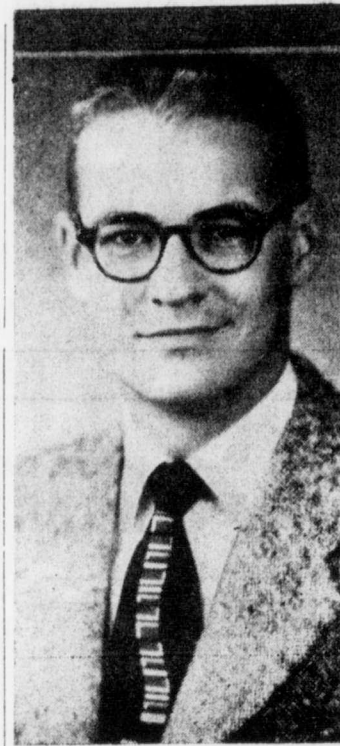

Dallas . . . I'd know it with my eyes shut . . . that announcer is a Texan, no mistake about that. We walk around the airport. So soon to be in such a different place—like a foreign country. Time to board the plane again. It's old stuff now. Fasten the belts . . . taxi out for the take-off . . . roar of the motors and we're off again—for New Orleans, Tampa and Miami. We'll be in Miami about 1:30 this afternoon. Good going.

(Next week—we make a return flight. The clouds gather).

Cerebral Palsy Campaign Aided by Soroptimists

Margaret S. Rood and Etta J. Underwood, the team that handles the cerebral palsy mobile unit for the California Elks Association, spoke before local Soroptimists Tuesday at their regular meeting at Del Tahquitz hotel. The two women, who handle more than sixty cases of cerebral palsy between Palm Springs and the Mexican border, told how local organizations can help to combat the need for special equipment used in curing the cerebral palsied children. A child that is effected by cerebral palsy must go through the process of learning the use of their arms and legs, as well as their minds. Through the help of the mobile unit, many CP children have been completely cured.

The CP unit offices are located at the Indio Health Center. Local women's organizations have pledged their help to the Cerebral Palsy unit.

300 Turned Back on Highway 99

More than 300 Mexican wetbacks, illegally in Southern California, were intercepted on Highway 99 over the weekend as a blockade was set up by sheriff's deputies and border patrol officers just inside the city limits of Banning.

Twelve men and one juvenile were arrested on charges of transporting the Mexican Nationals and fined $250 each with 10 days jail sentences suspended. It was the second big haul in two weeks. Five drivers were arrested and 200 wetbacks turned back at a roadblock on Highway 111 near Indian Wells recently.

THIS SIDE OF THE SUN

But there wasn't a three-digit day in 1953 until June 11, the longest stretch of less-than-100-degree days that anyone here can recall. Francis Crocker of the Power company, who can qualify as an old-timer, says he can't remember a comparable year. And that brings up the old question: Is the weather changing? In 1946, for instance, it was 116 on April 16. Then cooled off and May was great. In '47, '48, '49, we had 100-degree days early in April. And cool weather in May. In 1950, the first three-digit day was April 13, 100 even. With none in May. In 1951, it got to 100 on May 10, in 1952 it slipped back again, 102 on May 3. This year it was June 11. Staying cooler longer. Now if the year's weather follows the pattern of others. Stay through June.

HILLY CRAWFORD, The Sun's

The local police department has again launched its Summer campaign of watching houses of absentees. All you have to do is fill out a form at the police station, telling them you're going away, where you'll be, your telephone there or address, and the police make a periodic check of your place and send you a reassuring postcard that all is well.

if it is, and what's wrong if it isn't. It's a free service and a helpful one. Up to Tuesday 250 such cards had been filled out and the homes are being watched.

ONE OF THE Milder Sunday diversions at our house finds me checking the sports pages and Mrs. G. working the big crossword puzzle. Every once in a while she asks me for help. You're a newspaperman, you should know words, so between figuring what happened to so-and-so in the fifth, I give forth words of wisdom. But was my face red last Sunday. She asked: "What is a diastenast?" I was stumped. And after delving through various tomes, found that that long word meant an editor. But that's not all. The definition said "an ANCIENNT revisor as of the poems of Homer." Heh, the only Homer I know is Ralph Kiner.

Long Prison Terms Fixed in Bribe Case

Three Defendants Sentenced to from 1 to 14 Years

Judge Russell S. Waite in Superior Court Monday imposed state prison sentences of from one to 14 years for each of the three men convicted of conspiring to bribe Sheriff Joe Rice to permit gambling in the Palm Springs area.

Judge Waite overruled motions for a new trial but allowed bail of the three defendants to remain unchanged, pending an appeal.

The three men sentenced are Ned P. Eads, 42, Alvin Schonitte, 29, and Edward Bilbrey, 28.

THEY WERE CONVICTED last month on charges of conspiring to bribe Sheriff Rice with an offer of as much as $1500 weekly if he would permit them to operate a gambling casino somewhere in the Palm Springs vicinity.

Another charge of actually offering the bribe resulted in disagreement of the jury. Sheriff Rice personally arrested the men in his office last December.

JUDGE WAITE set November 2 for a new trial on the charge of actually offering the bribe. The first jury could not reach a verdict on this charge.

Attorney Phillip Gilbert, 34, who represented Schonitte and Bilbrey was fined $500 and sentenced to five days in jail for contempt of court. He granted a five-day stay to permit Isadore Moidel, Gilbert's attorney, to seek a review from the appellate court on the jail sentence.

Desert Jarred by Two Temblors

The desert area was jarred by two earthquakes over the weekend. Both were mild and the first, at 9:15 p. m. Saturday, was not felt by many. A short, sharper shock, was recorded at 3 p. m. Sunday.

There was no damage reported in either.

ACROSS THE UNITED STATES—Twenty-two year old Bob 'Jogalong' Jacobs who just crossed the United States, visits in Palm Springs on his way to Los Angeles. He is shown on the horse that carried him cross-country. He wears the beard because he doesn't like to shave. Jacobs claims he had never ridden a horse before he left Washington D. C. on this trip.

To Circle Globe on Horseback

Bob 'Jogalong' Jacobs, a lad who last October 7 left Washington, D. C., arrived in Palm Springs this weekend. He rode horseback the entire way, and will continue on his proposed trip around the world.

The 22 year old ex-air force man said he has picked this means of transportation because "I just want to have a good time and gather material for a book I intend to write about my adventures."

His plan calls for him to go from here to Los Angeles, then by boat to Australia, where he will circle the continent, and then to Alaska. He will ride horseback from Alaska to South America.

Three from City Honored at USC

Three local members were included among 3200 seniors at the University of Southern California honored at formal commencement exercises held Saturday at Alumni Memorial park on the campus in Los Angeles.

President Fred D. Fagg presided at the 70th annual event and Senator William Knowland was the speaker.

Villagers receiving degrees were Gilar Boyd, Bachelor of Laws; John Warren Klug, Bachelor of Architecture; Harold Parker, Master of Science in Education.

4 Villagers Win Stanford Honors

Four from Palm Springs were awarded degrees from Stanford University Saturday at the 62nd annual commencement exercises at Palo Alto.

Listed from Palm Springs were: Prescott Stevens Nichols, bachelor of arts in biological sciences; John Manning Pendery, bachelor of arts in economics; James Norman Cronholm, bachelor of arts in history; Thomas Harvey Schilling, Master of Arts, biological sciences.

Mrs. Schlosser, Winter Resident, Taken by Death

Word was received in the Village this week of the death in Denver Monday of Mrs. Gertrude Schlosser, resident of the Village for ten years. She was 83 years of age.

Mrs. Schlosser made her home here with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fay E. Brainard, 1242 South Calle Marous. With them she left here two weeks ago for the annual Summer stay in Estes Park, Colorado. She was taken ill last Thursday.

Her daughter, Mrs. Brainard, is the only survivor.

Mrs. Schlosser, despite her age, was active in Community church work here and had many friends in the desert area.

Funeral services will be held today at 3 p. m. at the Olinger Mortuary in Denver.

Jobs Keep Pace With Population Growth in State

It is accepted by the country at large that California has had astonishing population gains, but what are all these people doing? Are they finding gainful employment, and what kind is it?

To provide answers to such questions, the Economics department of the Bank of America has just completed a study of the growth in employment in California over a 13-year period from April 1940 to April 1953.

This study shows that since 1940, while population was rising 71 per cent from 6,900,000 to 11,800,000, California employment rose 86 per cent, from 2,574,000 to 4,777,000.

"ANY AID IN BOTH advice and materials that would make this center a success will be greatly appreciated."

In response to Major Doak's letter, Bill Dunkerly, himself a major of the infantry reserve, wrote that the Village was much interested in Gibraltar's Palm Springs and that under separate cover he was sending some of the Village's regular picture literature to add color to the recreation center in Korea.

Additional material will go forward as soon as suitable pieces are found, Dunkerly said. He added that he can well appreciate Gibraltar's Palm Springs for when he was in the Army and in Germany, they set up a center simulating California.

that the drying of the mineral springs is the only way the job can be done successfully. If by any chance the natural flow of the water is not resumed, the city will sink a casing to return it. The springs stopped in 1936 and were brought back by this method, it was pointed out.

EXCAVATION WORK is expected to start by July 8 and the entire project completed by August 1.

Traffic will be maintained on Indian avenue as long as possible and when the improvement work forces a halt, it will be routed over Tahquitz drive, Palm Canyon and Andrews road.

The street will be of the width of the remainder of Indian avenue except before the bath house. Here the difference will be that no parking will be allowed on the east side, leaving the four lanes open for traffic with parking on the west side only.

THE WATER BOX in the center of the road north of the bath house which has been termed "trap" by motorists, will be removed and put underground with a manhole well and cover making it accessible to workmen. With the extension of Indian avenue northward already planned, the thoroughfare will become the widest in the community its full length.

Boys Caught Here

While their parents thought they were at a theater watching the movies, two young Brawley boys were making their way to Los Angeles.

They got as far as Palm Springs where Police Officer W. L. Jessup picked them up for questioning.

Local police checked with Brawley and the juveniles were returned to their homes Sunday afternoon.

$54,854 Budget for County Scout Council Okayed

Executive Board of Riverside county council, Boy Scouts of America, meeting last week in Riverside, approved a budget of $54,854.04 for the calendar year beginning January 1, 1954.

Carl Lyken of Palm Springs, board president, presided at the meeting.

The budget provides for expenses of maintaining Scouting programs, the cost of an executive committee of six men, an office staff of four persons, Scout headquarters at Riverside, Camp Evans at Riverside and Camp Emerson at Idyllwild.

Carl Helmick, county Scout executive, said that the number of Scouts and units is increasing rapidly. There are now 141 units in the county and 151 are expected by the end of the year.

A total of 5992 boys are enrolled as Scouts and 1200 more participated as voluntary leaders during the year.

of Chambers of Commerce throughout the United States toward building ownership. Cities such as Portland, Redwood City, Pasadena and Beverly Hills which have recently built their own quarters have been enthusiastic about the results, stating attractive and serviceable quarters tend to furnish a window to the community and its activities, thus creating a good impression, building the community and establishing stability in the city as well as the Chamber of Commerce itself.

In line with the expansion of individual businesses and the community as indicated in building, sales tax, population as well as postal and other increases, the Chamber of Commerce directors felt the Visitor's Center site purchase a healthy and vital move toward future development. The "Build for Tomorrow" campaign conducted in ment of Palm Springs business April, 1953, under the leadership of Chairman Joe Gamble, concluded with $5,075, and since that time through the voluntary leadership of those who were active in the campaign, more than 50 per cent has been added to make a total amount in the Visitor's Center trust fund $74,417.70.

Necessary improvements will be made on the present building to house the Chamber of Commerce temporarily while plans for the new building are being made. During the campaign, many potential investors in this program expressed their intentions to invest when a satisfactory site had been secured. It is hoped that all businesses will support their Chamber of Commerce program wholeheartedly now that this excellent site has been selected.

UNDER THE management of William J. Dunkerly, the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce has progressed steadily in the past few years with its annual income increasing from $39,059 (1948) to $63,111 (1952). The membership roster, as of January 1953, reached a new high with nearly 400 members from a low during the period of 281. This progress has been due mainly to the Chamber's increased and improved services and promotional program. Each year additional funds have been allotted to the advertising program. In 1948, $6,395 was spent for advertising purposes and in 1952 this amount was boosted to $18,396. The amount spent for display advertising in newspapers, magazines and similar media in 1952 was five times the amount spent in 1948.

Open House Wednesday to Show Typhoon Air Conditioning Units

Open house to the public, signifying the opening of the newly completed Ideal Air, Inc., and the firms formal inauguration of business activities throughout the desert area, will be held all day Wednesday, until 8 p. m.

This announcement was made yesterday by Wally Timm, manager of Ideal Air, who will direct the operations of the company which will be distributors and maintain service for Typhoon Packaged Air Conditioning Units, designed for both commercial and residential use in both new and existing buildings.

The planning of the new headquarters and its construction was completed in record-breaking time, hardly more than a month having elapsed since negotiations were commenced with the Schisler Brothers Realty company to obtain the corner of Highway 111 and Arabia street from Robert Cosgrove, the owner. The firm of Ideal Air was represented by Timm and Frank Varney, sales manager of the Typhoon Air Conditioning company for the eleven western states, represented that corporation which has distribution throughout the country.

The handsome new building reflects the latest and most modern design in desert architecture, and was planned and built by Meredith and Simpson, general contractors. It has a white, gently sloping insulated roof with wide overhang. The floors are of reinforced concrete in a rosy colored tone. Eight-inch pumice masonry walls have Cuban tan coloring on the outside, with Eichwall wainscoting antiqued in delphinium on the interior.

the acoustic tile wall is painted in a medium shade of Mesquite, with both ceiling and block wall in a lighter tint of the same hue. Vee Nisley was the interior decorator.

A feature of the building is the front showroom, which will display the various Typhoon Air Conditioning units. Plate glass windows rise from the floor level to the roof line along the complete front and half way back on both sides of the showroom, which occupies one half of the structure. This not only provides an unusual architectural treatment but gives maximum light and the ultimate in display value from the street. The rear half of the building is separated from the front by sound proofed partitioning, and will be used for servicing and storage of equipment. The building has been so designed that it can be readily enlarged for expansion. It is completely air conditioned with Typhoon equipment.

An unusual feature incorporated has been the introduction of special conduits and outlets in the floor of the showroom so that the various models of Typhoon air conditioners can be demonstrated.

Additional new service trucks and skilled service and maintenance men will be added to the staff to adequately service the entire desert area, and this service will cover all types of air conditioning units. This was the statement of Wally Timm, who not only predicted an exceptional growth in this area during the coming years but that air conditioning will be more widely used in commercial and residential buildings.

Great Population Growth Predicted for County Area

Estimates on the steadily increasing population of Southern California were released by the National Association of Manufacturers last week and they predicted there would be 232,020 persons residing in the county by 1959.

Much of this rapid growth is expected to be in the desert area. Population of the county in 1950 was 170,046 according to official U. S. census figures. The forecast was based on a study of trends made by the Pacific Southwest Research Council of the NAM.

The NAM predicted husky increases for three of the county's four neighboring counties. San Bernardino county is expected to go from 231,642 in 1950 to 475,616 in 1959. Orange County is expected to go from 216,224 in 1950 to 420,370 in 1959. San Diego county is expected to go from 536,808 in 1950 to 1,023,726 in 1959.

Court for Desert District Voted by Legislators

Establishment of a fourth department of the county superior court and assignment of a judge to sit at Indio to serve the desert area awaits only the signature of Governor Earl Warren.

Both assembly and senate passed the measure creating the fourth department with the proviso that it be assigned to Indio and appointment of a fourth superior court judge.

If the measure is signed, it is expected the fourth court will start operations at Indio in October.

Assemblyman Lee Backstrand and State Senator Nelson Dilworth sponsored the measure at Sacramento.

Establishment of a desert branch of the superior court has long been an objective of the Desert Bar association and through their efforts and recommendation by the county grand jury and the board of supervisors.

President Slaughter appointed Gertrude Walker publicity chairman and public relations official for the Assembly.

New Air Freight Service Begun

A new air service, Desert Airways, Inc., is now serving the desert area from Los Angeles with two daily freight service runs, replacing earlier truck service.

The new line, started by two brothers, Bill and Harold Kellogg, started June 1 with bread deliveries from a Los Angeles bakery for San Bernardino, 29 Palms, Palm Springs, Apple Valley and Barstow.

Two daily flights are scheduled leaving Los Angeles at 4:30 a. m. and 10:30 a. m., returning from 29 Palms at 6:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m.

Initially designed for freight service, it is planned later to inaugurate passenger service, too.

Hold Suspect for Questioning in Local Burglaries

Joseph Willard Johnson, 38, resident of Twentynine Palms, one of two men arrested in connection with a burglary at White-water, was transferred to Riverside county jail Friday after a hearing in Judge E. E. Theriault's court here on burglary charges.

Johnson's arrest, according to local police, may solve a half dozen recent burglaries in the desert area. He is being questioned on several raids here as well as the Whitewater case.

According to Police Sgt. Durman Ordway, Johnson has admitted the Whitewater charge. A television set and other articles taken there were recovered by deputy sheriffs from the Banning substation out on the desert. Johnson was arrested with Robert Rosenberg, also of Twentynine Palms, in Maywood. Police said that loot taken from Palm Springs was found in their automobile.

Action on appointment of a part-time juvenile officer for Palm Springs to assist Juvenile Officer Ted Greene will probably be delayed until Fall, it was reported by City Manager Russell Rink Tuesday.

Hayden Denies He Questioned Varner Motives

Supervisor Irwin Hayden is on record as officially denying that he said, or implied that Supervisor Homer Varner was dishonest.

He contradicted reports that he had said last Wednesday that Varner was seeking to lease county property at far less than its value.

The contradiction came when Chairman William Jones said that he thought Hayden should be given an opportunity to make a public apology for having "publicly accused Mr. Varner of dishonesty."

Hayden replied that he had never accused Varner.

He then said he would go no further talking except on the witness stand in a possible libel case in which he "would be the plaintiff."

Varner said that there might be another suit in which Hayden would testify "as the defendant."

The argument arose over a proposal by Varner to lease a housing project at Indio.

It's Nice to go on Vacation, Nicer to be Back Here

"It's nice to go on a vacation, but it's nicer to return home, especially after the surprise that greeted me."

So declared Mrs. Robert Morris of the Casual Air, who returned to Palm Springs after spending almost two weeks with her family in Eureka, California.

The surprise, she explained, took place when she entered her home here and found a new television set in the living room which was not there when she left.

"Also, Bob had the hallway painted, had the east wall of our home knocked out and had sliding glass doors installed, and well—it's just beautiful," breathlessly declared Mrs. Morris.

E. L. Stancliff, business consultant for the Turf club, described the thorough screening given those on the board of the club by the state corporation commissioner and said he was particular that none of the Las Vegas element would be involved.

"And you may be sure, they won't," he added.

STANCLIFF also denied that the race track issue for Palm Springs had been pre-determined. It has not, he said. He said that the area needs something to extend the season and the Turf club plant with its facilities for other activities would fill that need.

The plant would have a 20,000 to 22,000 capacity, he stated.

In answer to the question he said that, if and when the permit is granted by the state racing board, it was planned to have the opening program in the Fall of 1954.

Following the meeting, directors of the Turf club and Sam Levin of the Biltmore, were hosts at refreshments in the Garder Room.

Hotels remaining open all Summer are using the special membership cards for their guests.

No Endorsement on Any Racing by Businessmen

Adrian Rosen, president of the Retail Merchants association and chairman of the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce, said Monday that a mistaken impression of the merchants' stand on horse racing seems to prevail.

He said the groups had endorsed no proposals. No recommendations will be made as an association until all sides have been heard, thoroughbred racing, quarter horse racing, or no racing at all, he said.

PALM SPRINGS MERRY PARTY WHIRL FROM THANKSGIVING UNTIL JUNE

By HILLY CRAWFORD

Fun and sun aren't always synonymous in Palm Springs. Where night life has a special brand of sparkle. From Thanksgiving to Memorial Day, the round of parties is a giddy whirl... convention-size parties and grand openings, informal get-togethers, chuckwagon breakfasts, balls and receptions, luaus, Western parties, Mexican parties, costume galas, cocktail parties, buffets and sit-down dinners, coffees and teas... and many a style show luncheon... asterisk the social calendar.

While the pace is the fastest, invitations lead every mail and many a night finds the party-goer flitting from one place to the next... trying to fit in as many as four parties in one hectic evening.

Part of the fun of a Palm Springs party is that you never know whom you will meet there... your favorite columnist or novelist... film star or radio celebrity... or someone whose name is always appearing in Cholly Angelino's or James Coppel's chatter-galleys.

Villagers and early-arriving part-time residents have the fun of the openings of all the glamorous spots that have been closed during the summer. Particularly nice this year was the Deep Well opening, with the elaborate and sumptuous buffet prepared by that master chef, Santos. La Quint's opening was one to remember... if only for the marvelous squash stuffed with wild rice... the charm of the rooms in their early Spanish style... and Phil Regan was there with his family that night. There was a western atmosphere and conviviality at the Ranch opening night.

One of the biggest events of the season of course, was the re-opening of beautiful El Mirador with all the panoply of red carpets, klieg lights, movie stars, beautifully-gowned women wearing gorgeous furs, music and laughter, fine foods and wines... and the flash bulbs of cameras flaring up all over the place all evening long. It was a night to remember.

Swanky Spectacles

With the opening of the $5,000-000 showplace it became a center for many of the most spectacular events of the winter months. Fashion luncheons staged by Lilian Agar, Diane, Ben Reig... the fabulous St. Patrick's party with its midgits dressed like leprechauns and Phil Regan singing Irish songs... the Tea Dances by the pool... with its water ballet... and Bob Hope putting in a personal appearance along with lovely Dinah Shore and other celebrities... and the very amusing duet by Moussey Powell and Gussie Moran.

There were dozens of dinner parties there... the biggest, of course, was the Starlight Ball... and its fashionable Supper Club, with Gwen Bari at the piano... and its South Pacific Room where George Kainapau, Eddie Bush and Al McIntyre (of the Harry Owens show) drew the customers back, night after night. The leaping flames of the circular fireplace in the great lobby, the lighted pool and palm trees in the garden and the dance music of Bill Bardo's orchestra made El Mirador a popular meeting place.

The South Pacific Room was the scene for some beautiful parties... Remember the bon voyage party for Bing Crosby just before he sailed for Europe? There was a monstrous big four-foot replica of the Queen Mary and mounds of hors d'oeuvres, and guests like Jack Benny, Phil Harris and Alice Faye, Bill Gargan, the Powells and the Ferrells, the Ralph Kiners, Gussie Moran.

Hilly Crawford, society editor of The Sun, whose sparkling column, "Around Town" was a widely read feature during the season, is on vacation. Before she left she wrote this review of the colorful winter season in Palm Springs.

There was the cocktail party with the Hawaiian motif, Ray Ryan gave for Millie Considine, and poolside was the all-Hawaiian fashion show staged by Wallah Calrke, with dancers and singers and a wonderful show.

Smart Soirees

The Starlight Patio was the scene of some of the most fabulous parties... Chicagoan Jimmy Hart gave his Pump Room party there... with stage settings and costumes from his famous Pump Room... and the Bill Reichels hosted their "Come let the stars get in your eyes" party there... The Garden Room was the setting for the Flemington dinner... with 100 guests gathering to help the hosts celebrate their anniversary.

Down Indian avenue, in the colonial atmosphere of beautiful Howard Manor... celebrities sunned by the pool... Diane staged a showing of her exclusive handknits, poolside... The Howard Morris hosted a big party in the penthouse apartment... before the Ro-Ki-Li dinner dance... and one of the most colorful parties arranged this winter by Bob and Andrea Leeds Howard... was the Inauguration dinner party.

The names of poolside luncheons at the Racquet Club this year was like a listing of Hollywood great and the social register... for there was always someone... maybe glamorous Greer Garson luncheon with her husband... or John Payne swimming in the pool... Rhonda Fleming and her small son in the pool's "yacht" (a rowboat that belongs to Moussey Powell)... or Charles and Virginia Farrell entertaining a stellar group.

Sweet Charity

One of the biggest social and charity events was the City of Hope dinner at the Racquet Club... with society paying $100-a-couple... to hear such headliners as Lucille Ball and Desi Arnez, Dan Dailey, Frankie Laine, Dinah Shore, Kathryn Grayson and Bob Cummings. The highlight of the evening was the announcement of the $55,000 gift to the City of Hope by Mrs. George Machris.

The Don Loper style show, emceed by that fabulous courterier, was one of the most beautiful of a season which was dotted with style shows, and both the inside dining rooms and the pool area at the Racquet Club were thronged with feminine luncheon guests.

Hotel the Oasis opened its spectacularly beautiful dining room this year and Bess Bender chose it as the locale for her show, Rags by Bess Bender. The beauty of the setting, the perfection of the luncheon and the attractive gowns made it a delightful occasion.

Western Party

The newest of the country clubs, homelike Tamarisk, with its beautiful greens and view, added its hospitality to the Village social life this year. Here the Monte Herber welcomed a throng of guests to a bang-up Western party, complete with outdoor chuckwagon supper and the M. O. Andersons were hosts at a colossal Sunday morning brunch.

One of the first fashion shows, staged with top professional models, was the one given by Faye Renee for the March of Dimes luncheon at Thunderbird Ranch and Country Club. Arranged by Mrs. Sidney O. Noles Jr., local chairman for the March of Dimes, this was one of the top showings.

There was always something going on at Thunderbird but its exciting season was topped by the luau. Never was such an array of delectable foods, such a wonderful show, such fun! Palm Springs went native this year, with many luaus, but the memory of the Thunderbird feast lingers on.

Hank Gogerty, aided and abetted by Wallah Clarke, staged a beautiful luau at Desert Air Hotel. The hula and sword dancers, the potent drinks in bamboo cups, the ritual when the pig was taken out of the cooking pits, the music of the Islands, lent authentic charm to the scene, as the guests sat on matting, beside low tables around the pool, and the flickering lights of dozens of hurricane candles, gloved like fireflies... and there were frangipani leis for the ladies. Desert Air is that unique hotel with the green landing field alongside, so that air travelers can practically taxi up to the door.

A number of seasonal parties were given at the Desert Inn like the Red, White and Blue Ball in February. Several fashion luncheons, and the popular desert breakfasts were also arranged for the Inn's guests.

There was the Kid Party at Ned Crawford's Ranch and many a square dance in the upstairs room... and many a fine steak dinner downstairs. There was the Lumberjack Party at Smoke Tree.

Shadow Ball

Beautiful Shadow Mountain Club had one big party after another all winter long, each nicer than the one before. One of the most elaborate was the annual Shadow Ball, with boxes of gardenias and black and white tapers setting the decor. Jimmy Anderson, the singing star of "Oklahoma," sang, and Phil Regan was persuaded to sing an Irish song for St. Patrick's Day. See SEASON, Page 2-B and it was "a great day for the Irish."

SEASON

Shadow Mountain's Tahitian party was out of this world. Around 600 guests feasted at the tables around the giant figure-eight pool and listened to the sweet singing of George Kalanapau and Eddie Bush, and watched the dancers on the private raft in the pool.

There were a number of elaborate affairs at the Tennis Club, which affords such a charming setting. The biggest was probably the Beaux Arts Ball... with its Parisian street scene setting, its entertainment that went on for hours, and its excitingly costumed guests.

The anniversary party given by the Charles Beckers was held in the Lanai Room at the Tennis Club and offered one of the most elaborate canape tables. A swan sculptured from ice centered the big table, with shrimp nestled in the cracked ice at its feet, and all kinds of hot and cold delicacies. The Hawaiian Serenaders played for this party, with the guests who had been to the Islands joining in with the songs.

One of the biggest of the private parties was hosted by the James Frenches at the hillside home... with guests gathering on the terrace for cocktails and buffet... followed by an informal concert in the drawingroom... by the Kings Men.

Mexican Party

The John Costellos Mexican party was a colorful scene with the appropriately and colorfully costumed guests gathered on the terrace for "champagne y frijoles." There was a Mexican orchestra for dancing and four of the guests arrived riding burros. The informal Christmas party given by Glenn and Vivian Austin, before they went in to town, was one of the most charming of the winter season. Colonel Ray Shelby and Willis Adams III co-hosted a party for Nina Anderton, who was in the Village several times this winter.

The luau given by Bertine Treat was one of the most elaborate of the private parties. Colored lights played on the eight-foot flower-laden float in the pool... and Hawaiian torches burned in the garden... Pineapple, li leaves and flowers from the Islands decorated the tables, where the guests were served a Polynesian palna... accompanied by a background of South Seas music.

Don the Beachcombers has added to the social life of Palm Springs, for almost any night it had its quota of celebrities dining there. It was filled to near-capacity Sunday night for its closing for it has already found a warm spot in the heart of Palm Springs. The vapor rising midst the tropical greenery outside its windows, the romantic charm of the dimly lighted interior, the memory of a gold cup, and a desert flame, of chicken almond, rumaki and won ton will linger on until it re-opens in October.

That's only a few of the highlights of a season which saw Palm Springs overflowing with visitors from the ends of the world, and enjoying one of the gayest winter seasons in the history of the Village.

WEDS VILLAGER—Janet Elizabeth MacLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John MacLeod of Newport Beach who exchanged vows with John Warren Klug of Palm Springs Saturday night at Beverly Hills.

Janet MacLeod, John Klug Married in Beverly Hills

Janet Elizabeth MacLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John MacLeod of Newport Beach, became the bride of John Warren Klug, son of Frederick Klug and the late Mrs. Klug of Palm Springs at ceremonies Saturday at Bethel Lutheran church, Beverly Hills, at 8 p. m., with Dr. William S. Meyer of Immanuel Presbyterian church officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Maid of Honor was Elizabeth MacLeod, sister of the bride and Matron of Honor, Mrs. William S. Shattuck, another sister. Bridesmaids were Miss Anne Avery, Long Beach, Mrs. Thomas A. Raphael, Culver City, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. William S. Price, Los Angeles and Mrs. Cyrus M. Ostrup, Burbank.

Donald Fouts, San Pedro, was best man and ushers were Roger Johnson, Daniel Schuavone and Robert Crosbie of Hermosa Beach, Florian Giller Boyd, Palm Springs, William N. Shattuck, Los Angeles, Thomas A. Raphael, Culver City and John Van Dolan, Studio City.

The bride is a graduate of Marlborough and University of Southern California. She was vice president of Kappa Alpha Theta and president of Theta Sigma Phi. She was society editor of the Daily Trojan.

The bridegroom was graduated last week from University of Southern California School of Architecture. He was president of Chi Phi and affiliated with the Trojan Knights and Squires and was vice president of the Associated Men Students.

The bride wore a cahill ivory satin gown with pleated net set into a picture collar of ecru lace and carried a cascade of Phalaenopsis orchids and Lily of the Valley with a center of Ivory White Cattalya orchids.

Following the reception at the Wilshire Country Club, the couple left for Carmel and San Francisco on a honeymoon trip. They will make their home in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Vacation in Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Ray are vacationing in Mexico and will be gone three months visiting various points in that nation and generally relaxing.

They left the Village last week. The local realtor said that he had been ordered by his physician to take a complete rest to recover from a recent illness... and that's what he intends to do.

Dance Team in Follies at Palm Desert

Roxane and Barone, professional floating cane strut and the ballet second annual edition of the "Palm Desert Follies" June 20, 21, 27 and 28. Clay Stearns, producer-director of the Palm Desert Little Theatre announced this week.

Roxane, a dimpled champagne blonde, often mistaken for Sonja Henie, and her tall handsome husband are Villagers now, having purchased a home next to Li's Damita's.

The couple who have appeared in leading hotels and supper clubs throughout the nation and Mexico, were a feature at the Palm House in Palm Springs this winter. They presented their beautiful fluorescent novelties, an adagio tango, a mystifying floating cane strut and the ballet adagio.

These numbers will be performed within the limitations of the stage in the "Palm Desert Follies" for "old times sake." Roxane and Barone are long time friends of Stearns (a professional himself for many years). They have appeared on the same show a number of times in the past and were surprised, and delighted to find each other in the desert.

The team is preparing for a South American tour this coming season.

New Comedy to Open on June 24 at Padua Hills

As the first production of the 1953 Summer season, the Mexican Players will present "La Fortuna de Don Esteban," a rollicking comedy of the national lottery, at the Padua Hills theater.

The new offering in lighter vein will have a festive opening on June 24, following the final performances of "Lolita," comedy of Veracruz, on June 20.

"La Fortuna de Don Esteban," translated as "The Luck of Don Esteban," is based on an original story by the late Charles A. Dickinson. It will be the third production of the new director, Alfonso Gallardo.

The comedy unfolds the highly humorous adventures of a mild-mannered husband with a domineering wife who won the grand prize in the national lottery only to find it brought more trouble than it was worth.

The spectacular manner in which he succeeded in unloading his ill-fated wealth furnishes a most diverting finale. With its locale Mexico City, urban settings and diversions will be featured in the comedy.

"La Fortuna de Don Esteban" will be staged on the regular Padua schedule of Wednesday through Saturday evening performances, and Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Patrons are reminded of the seventh annual three-day show of the Pomona Valley Branch of the National Fuchsia Society, opening Friday in the olive grove adjoining the theater.

Had to go to town because the Little Woman's mother is slowly checking out at the Cedars of Lebanon, so who could do a guest column for me better than Cynthia Snowden, my former associate and well known for her much-read "Whispering Sands" column?

Hello everybody!!! Glad to be back with the sand in my shoes and away from the hustle and bustle of the big city. Once you are kissed by the desert air you never forget and from the looks of the Summer operation here it is undeniable that the area and its environs are a Summer as well as a Winter playground. At my friend Hank Gogerty's Desert Air Hotel, a paradise in the midst of the ranch country, tucked on the grass runways with J. E. "Doc" and Ruth Gurley in their Navion, Doc was full of conversation about the five hundred mile classic at Indianapolis from which he just returned. Young John Gurley was a school mate of my son Philip at Elsinore several years ago. Just for the record, both boys are aiming at being 6 feet tall. John is currently a student at the Palm Valley school near the Al Laurye's Steak Ranch. Philip Snowden just graduated from the Beverly Hills Catholic School. You Junior femmes fatale had better watch out for these two handsome boys! Was impressed with Don Camaron's new highway office and can visualize how the interior will be decorated with the artistic ability and helping hand of his wife Isabelle, formerly with Barrett O'Shea's House of Modern Interiors and Jean Harlow Bello and the new tenant Michael Buccino, interior decorator.

At Dick Winan's Desert Sun Ranch the other evening watching the Bob Hope television show were Dr. and Mrs. Bob Heikel, Leife Erickson with her brother and sister-in-law, Oak and Jean Erickson, Dee Bailey a new-comer and very popular, with her son Britt from Topeka. By the way, Britt taught art as a method of psycho-therapy at the Menninger Clinic. At the San Souci saw Hilma Lawrence and Morris Johnson, Dick Bagdasarian, "Mr.

Irene Mathias at Arrowhead Springs. Irene Mathias, social director at Shadow Mountain club at Palm Desert spent the weekend at the Arrowhead Springs hotel. The hotel has just been reopened under the management of Robert A. Groves, well known on the desert, having been manager of La Quinta hotel for three years.

Stopped by the Sun-Aire tract office and traded banalities with handsome Walter Melrose. Couldn't pass Thunderbird without seeing Frank Bogert, who runs the operation. Frank was exchanging ideas with Johnny Dawson, president of the ranch. On what other golf course can the little women keep such close tabs on her previous bread-winner while enjoying the comforts of home?

At the California Water & Telephone company on Palm Canyon, stopped by to see Bill Nash. It was refreshing to see his busy little helpers in cool resort attire.

Where are Bill and Helen Reichel? They were the ones who told me "Never leave before the 4th of July!"

Have to be getting along, but will be seeing you soon and I really mean soon.

There's only one answer...

Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

Fleet operators, farmers, independent truckers—truck users everywhere—buy more Chevrolets than any other make. There can be only one reason for that: Chevrolet trucks offer more of what you want.

As the official registration figures keep rolling in, they keep telling the same positive story about truck popularity and truck value: Again in 1953, for the twelfth straight production year, truck buyers show a clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks. If you're a truck user, this fact is mighty important to you. Why? Well, as you know, trucks are built and bought for just one reason—to do a job. So isn't it logical then that since Chevrolet trucks outsell all others, they must do a better job at lower cost? That's why it will pay you to stop in and see us before you buy your next truck.

And the telephone is an important tool for all sorts of emergencies—the number of telephones in service grows and grows as populations increase. 1952 was a year of wonderful progress in the expansion of telephone facilities and 1953 promises to be an even better one.

I RISE TO REMARK

By CONGRESSMAN JOHN PHILLIPS

When a visitor from home comes to Washington for the first time, he (or she) remarks, immediately on certain aspects: the beauty, the buildings, the Capitol, the interest of its activities, and, before very long, on the deceptive distances which result in Tired feet. Yet this great city, which today attracts the attention of all the world, for all of the above reasons and more, was born, like many another legislative decision, in compromise and expediency: the result of sectional jealousies, economic rivalries and the usual political intrigues of that day. It was both created at the start by real estate promotions. It has survived the dual control of local government and Congress. It was touched directly by one war, threatened by a more recent one, and it would undoubtedly be a prime target of any future war. Yet, like our form of government, it has survived.

Whether we realize it or not, Washington is more than a city. It is a symbol. Henry Adams, writing to a British friend in 1877, said, "One of these days, it will be a very great city, if nothing happens to it." It has no inherent grandeur or beauty; that is, it has no mountains, nor the sea. It has the Potomac, and the beautiful countryside, but Washington itself was a swamp. London and Paris and Moscow are great cities in themselves, with their own pasts and their own characters as cities; the presence of the governments is incident to the cities. The character of Washington as the capital is basic.

THE CAPITOL building is the symbol of all that Washington represents to the people. It was significant that when representatives of the North and the South met, on shipboard in Hampton Roads, to discuss the termination of the Civil War, one of the first things Governor Hunter of Virginia, of the Southern delegation, asked Governor Seward of New York, formerly of Lincoln's cabinet, was, "Tell me, Governor, how is the Capitol, is it finished?"

The Capitol has the same hold on American sentiment now as it had then.

Washington has grown so, in 150 years, that the Capitol is in the easterly part, and somewhat to the south of the center line, but when Major l'Enfant (who laid out a plan for the new city) selected what is now known as "Capitol Hill" (or "The Hill"), this was expected to be the geographical center. In 1792 the commissioners of what was then called, simply, "the Federal city," held a prize competition for both the Capitol and the "President's House." Lots of plans were submitted, and the plan of Dr. William Thornton, an amateur architect, was the one chosen. The cornerstone was laid on September 18, 1793 with all the ceremony that went with cornerstone-laying in those days. General Washington wore a Masonic apron embroidered by Mme. Lafayette and declared the stone "well and truly laid," and I have no doubt the brothers stood around in their aprons too. There must have been a band, for that is a necessary part of Washington celebrations, and I do know that the artillery fired a salute. History does not record whether or not it was "Company D!"

THE CONGRESS, just as unpredictable then as now, fired several superintendent-architects because they tried to change the Thornton plan, and finally the doctor himself took over, in collaboration with James Hoban, who was the architect of what we now call the White House. Money was scarce, and since we had not then established the principle that we could just keep on spending money, whether we had it or not, as we learned to do in the last decade, the money gave out in 1796 and the work stopped. Maryland came to the rescue; held a lottery, and kept the construction going until the Congress picked up the financing again.

Our Gardens in the Desert

By VELOMA WALDRON

Over and over again people are asking what can be planted at this time of year that will bloom and not be too much care during the remainder of the summer. We have mentioned a good many of the summer blooming shrubs and vines such as the many-colored Lantana, Hibiscus, Roses, Oleanders, Crepe Myrtle, Bougainvillea, Begonias and the Tecomas, but here are some additional types which are perhaps not so frequently seen.

Teucrium fruticosum has a good grey foliage which blends attractively with the Desert colors. The bloom is a bright blue and very effective with this soft foliage. To the touch as well as to the eye the leaves of Teucrium fruticosum have a velvety texture and thickness. This is not a true shrub, but rather a plant to be used in a grouping of itself or with rock-garden effects or as a "transitional" plant between the "civilized" or more formal part of the garden and the Desert or "natural" garden.

ONE OF THE MORE effective shrubs which we have in this locality is just now coming into bloom. It is the Texas Sage or Leucophyllum frutescens texanum. This too, is of grey or so-called "white" foliage and is adaptable to many of the uses of the above mentioned Teucrium, with others as well. The Texas Sage is a favorite with all who have ever used this shrub, for it is easily cared for, grows in an attractive natural shape with very little pruning and is unusually handsome when in bloom. This bloom is something like a small snapdragon in its shape and is the color of pink and orchid. This Leucophyllum frutescens texanum, as its common name "Texas Sage" indicates. Therefore if you plant it from a container now it will go on blooming for some time to come, and then continue its easy growth throughout the warm weather. This is a large shrub when fully grown, frequently reaching a height of ten feet. It is however, I think, much better looking if kept to a height of about four to five feet and quite bushy at the base. This shrub should be set well away from any building by which it is planted. For example, if you would like to plant a Texas Sage at the corner of the house, it would appear much better when grown in if it were set about three to four feet from the base of the building.

ANOTHER LITTLE USED, but very attractive shrub for our Desert area is the Medicago arborea or shrub alfalfa. It does resemble the alfalfa plant somewhat, but the foliage is thicker on a more branching type of stem. The flower is yellow instead of the blue of alfalfa and it remains on the plant a longer period. This shrub will take full sun here, and is very vigorous looking and thick and bright green. In bloom now, it will add much to an area where a medium size and easy to grow shrub is desired.

Don't forget too, that this is still Zinnia planting season. They will flower in a very short length of time, if set out from the flats now. Plant them in a well worked bed so arranged that the bed may be flooded rather than sprinkled so that the flowers will last longer in the hot weather. Zinnias will bloom from May to November if cold weather doesn't arrive before that time.

BOOK REVIEW

"With A Quiet Heart" — An Autobiography by Eva Le Gallienne, Illustrated, 311 pp. New York: The Viking Press.

Reviewed by HELEN CERRY

How many actors would have the courage to exchange a place in the Broadway firmament for a barn of a theatre on Fourteenth Street, and a salary of a hundred dollars a week? Eva Le Gallienne did just that when she created the Civic Repertory Theatre, and courage is the name for Le Gallienne.

The same courage emanates from the pages of With A Quiet Heart, the story of her life since her first book "At 33," and it sustained her during and after the tragic moment when she lighted a hot-water heater in the cellar of her Connecticut cottage and stepped into a holocaust that consumed her hands, reduced them to "shreds, like gloves turned inside out."

The nature of metal varies according to the fire that tempers it. So it was with Le Gallienne who emerged as imperishable bronze, still with a pledged dream of a Repertory Theatre that would take the place of the late nationally-mourned Civic Repertory, fabled now for unexcelled performances of "The Good Hope, Romeo and Juliet, The Master Builder, The Cherry Orchard, The Cradle Song, Camille, and other wildly acclaimed smash hits. With the formation of the American Repertory Theatre Le Gallienne's dream was partially realized. When still at the peak of its popularity, the American Repertory failed through lack of subsidy, Le Gallienne continued to stand free and high up, nurturing her vision of her longing for a People's Theatre. Her ability as an actress, director, and Ibsen translator, her faith and her genius, that infinite capacity for conceiving pain, are tried and approved qualities that must again bring her and a legion of admirers, the deserved reward of a permanent repertory theatre.

With A Quiet Heart is delightful reading. Theatre-lovers, those interested in discovering how theatrical wheels go round, audiences capable of being moved by an example of high courage and endurance, admirers of clarity, unity and fluidity in writing, will, after reading Le Gallienne's book, thank whatever Gods may be for the "unquenchable soul" that achieved it.

ATOMIC FORCE DISCUSSED IN SERMON

"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday. The sermon centers on the question, "Is creative power material or spiritual?"

This declaration from the Psalms (24:1) is the Golden Text: "The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein."

A Bible passage from John's Gospel (6:19-21) shows "Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship." The disciples were afraid "But he said unto them, It is I; be not afraid. Then they willingly received him into the ship; and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "Jesus walked on the waves, fed the multitude, healed the sick, and raised the dead in direct opposition to material laws. His acts were the demonstration of Science, over-coming the false claims of material sense or law" (p. 275).

Fire Protection Funds Rejected

Supervisors in a budget session last week eliminated a proposal to construct a county fire station for unincorporated area at North Palm Springs from the fire-fighting program for the coming fiscal year. It would have cost $13,000.

They also voted down a $6000 proposal for a house for fire fighters at Palm Desert. But they did approve a $303,930 budget for fire protection in unincorporated areas during the 1953-54 year. This is higher by about $54,000 than the 1952-53 budget for similar purposes.

Heard About the Electric Weather Predictor?

Squint Smith built up quite a reputation last month by predicting the weather. What he said usually came true.

It got so that folks would sit around his little Antique Shop just to get his opinion.

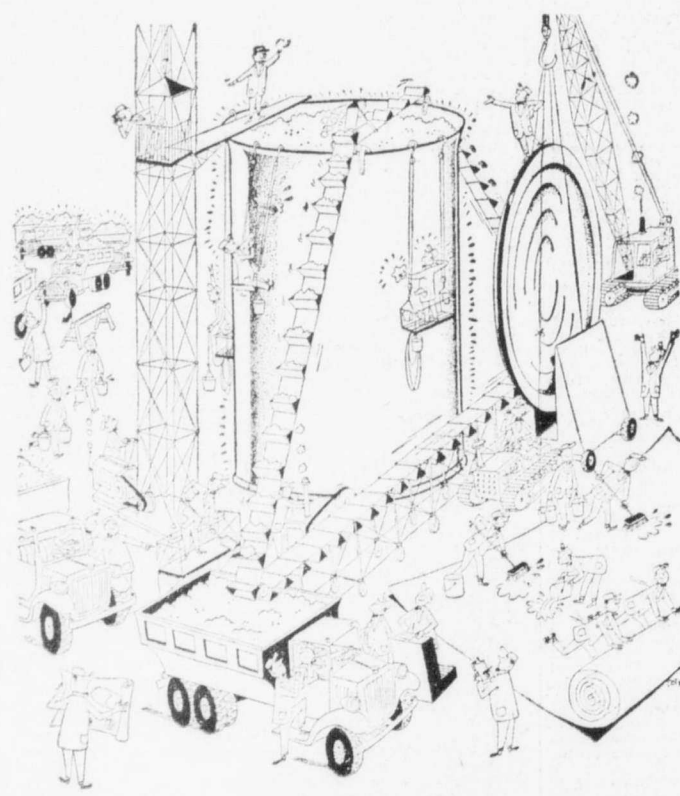

Last Monday, though, he said he didn't know what the weather was going to be like next day. That surprised us and when we asked what happened, Squint said, "Slipped up on my electric bill and was turned off. I'll get to my radio again tomorrow though." Squint had been sitting the weather over the radio—just like anyone else!

From where I sit, that's the way it goes with some "experts." They often don't have any more inside information than you can get for yourself. Like those who "know" cider is the only thirst-quencher after a day's work. Far as I'm concerned, I'll take a temperate glass of beer. But—I won't try to "predict" your choice for you.

The jobs that come in cans

The American Can Company hasn't yet worked out a practical container for packing jobs and economic security. We make cans—we do no canning.

But, by making better cans, we have actually created job opportunities in many different fields.

All kinds of things—foods and beverages, paints and varnishes, tobacco and tennis balls—keep better, are more convenient and easier to use when they are packed in the right kind of container.

So, markets for these products expand. Thousands of new, well-paid jobs open up, and incomes climb.

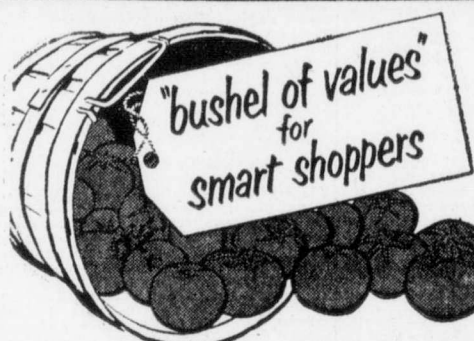

In fact, whole new businesses have been able to get started because a suitable can was developed to hold a product. You probably know of manufacturing plants right in California that owe their existence to the industry.

Creating new jobs is only one example of what America has accomplished in our free, competitive way of doing business. People working together, playing together and living together bring social and economic gains to all.

And such teamwork between our people and our business system promises greater prosperity and more jobs for our future.

Carnation Corner

Sometimes I think there is nothing the Carnation people will not do to be sure the name Carnation always means the finest in dairy freshness and delicious flavor!

For instance, the strawberries for our new Carnation Treat-of-the-Month—Fresh Strawberry Ice Cream. They are unique, specially grown strawberries. Large, juicy, full of lively flavor. The finest strawberries grown.

FRUIT ICE CREAM STAINS should always be treated by pouring boiling water through the stain first, then laundering (or sponging with "cleanser"). Using soap first "sets" a fruit stain.

Carnation's strawberries are picked perfectly ripe, sweetened just enough to bring out the true flavor. Then they are flash-frozen and held at low temperature until they're blended into finest Carnation Deluxe Ice Cream. No wonder Carnation Fresh Strawberry Ice Cream has that wonderful "just made" freshness and flavor! Enjoy lots of it this month.

Quite often, my children have their "very own" luncheon guests. They help prepare simple menus, greet their guests, and "converse" at table much as adults do. I find it is a fine way for even quite young boys and girls to learn good manners and the gracious art of hospitality. For a simple, yet "special" menu:

Broiled Hamburgers with Baked Whole Tomatoes Creamed New Potatoes and Peas Carnation Fresh Strawberry Ice Cream

The Great ICE CREAM DEBATE

One amusing fact in the long history of ice cream is The Great Ice Cream Debate of 1850. One group was sure the dasher should revolve inside the can—the other group was just as positive the can should revolve around the dasher! Nowadays, we don't give it a thought. To be sure we enjoy the finest ice cream, we just look for the name Carnation.

FRESH STRAWBERRY ICE CREAM PIE

(Makes 8-in. single crust pie) 2 tablespoons butter 1/4 lb. marshmallows (about 16 medium) 1/4 teaspoon vanilla 2 cups finely crushed cornflakes 1 quart Carnation Fresh Strawberry Ice Cream

Heat butter and diced marshmallows over hot water or low heat until marshmallows are melted. Stir in vanilla; blend thoroughly. Place cornflakes in buttered bowl and pour marshmallow mixture over them. Blend thoroughly. Press over bottom and sides of an 8-in. pie plate. Cool until firm. At serving time, fill with Carnation Fresh Strawberry Ice Cream. Top with fresh strawberries, if desired.

SOAP STOPS STICKING

If drawers stick, try rubbing the top edges and the runners underneath with a bar of soap.

Do be sure to enjoy plenty of Carnation Fresh Strawberry Ice Cream this month. Looks pretty, with its rosy pink color, and that wonderful flavor tastes fresh off the vine!
